Springfield, Ill., April 14.—(AP)—Illinois municipalities have been allotted $607,266.68 as their share of the three cent gasoline tax for March.

The distribution, made on the basis of population, gives Chicago the largest sum, $326,180.13 and Philadelphia, in White county, the smallest, $4.54.

The money, while allotted to the municipalities, remains in the state treasury and is spent on road and street work desired by the cities which meets the approval of the state Highway Department.

The money is part of that raised by the sales tax which, K. L. Ames, Jr., State Finance Director, said is permitting the state to make full payments to the schools for the first time in three years.

The amounts received by counties in the northern part of the state:

Lee $3,560.96; Bureau 5,297.85; Carroll 2,536.82; Cook 29,869.03; DeKalb, 3,909.06; DuPage 9,270.03; DuSable 5,306.83; Kane 9,395.25; Kendall 1,244.52; Knox 5,867.09; LaSalle 9,658.40; McHenry 2,366.99; Mercer 2,583.22; Ogle 3,442.27; Rock Island 8,253.49; Stephenson 3,887.46; Whiteside 4,380.68; Winnebago 12,204.70.

CURIOUS CROWD TURNS FUNERAL INTO A CIRCUS

Frenzied Mob Tried To Attend Rites Over Baby Girl

Chicago, April 14.—(AP)—A frenzied, clawing mob of 15,000 sensation seekers converted a baby's funeral into a circus.

As 2-year-old Dorette Zietlow's body lay in its little white casket yesterday they shouted, pushed and fought, smashed police lines, threw the services into confusion, and snatched pink sweet peas from the casket.

Outside the chapel they climbed atop automobiles, toppled two chimneys from the roof of the mortuary and milled in the streets, defying 40 policemen.

Inside, they shouted, "down in front," gossiped, chattered, and giggled, until finally a Legionnaire helped to conduct the funeral and shouted:

Legionnaire Protests
"This isn't a boxing match. It's a funeral."

The Rev. Henry A. Lambrecht, pastor of the St. Peter's Evangelical church where Dorette, victim of a 13-year-old boy abductor was in the infant's Sunday school class, reiterated his pleas for order.

"A large number of persons have come here today perhaps to satisfy curiosity. Except for those who can offer real help, the others would have helped best by being absent."

Dorette's mother, a patient in a mental institution, was taken to the mortuary hours before the services. She kissed the hand of the child, who died of exposure in an attic where the boy left her.

"My baby is pretty," the mother murmured.

"Spirits" Get Negro Ninety Days in Jail

Chicago, April 14.—(AP)—Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan listened carefully to the explanation of Charles Long, a Negro, as to how he happened to be in a suspected narcotics peddler's den, after he sentenced him to 90 days in jail.

"I work," said Long, "in an undertaker's room near here. This undertaker lets me sleep in the place. It's practically full of spirits. On the night of the raid I heard some of the coffins creaking. When I was able to move I ran over to the other building and was just sleeping there when the raiders arrived."

During one month of 1933, the United States exported 209,375 tons of anthracite, valued at $2,200,716.

A total of 5580 motor cars were stolen in the metropolitan area of London in 1932.

Electric Train Driven by Short Wave Transmission Visioned by Railroad Men and an Inventor

Boise City, Oka. Apr. 14.—(AP)—A vision of engine-less trains driven by electricity transmitted by short wave arose today as the result of a secret experiment on the tracks of the Santa Fe Railroad.

Energy sent by radio was credited with driving a small rail motor car a distance of seven miles yesterday. This test of an invention still in the experimental stage was guarded closely.

DILLINGER HAS VANISHED AGAIN; HIS TRAIL COLD

Girl Friend Being Held Under Heavy Bond in Chicago

Chicago, April 14.—(AP)—John Dillinger, America's No. 1 vanishing outlaw, has vanished again.

The "here-today-gone-tomorrow" criminal left a cold trail in Indiana, where he replenished his arms at the expense of the Warsaw Ind. police early yesterday. Road blockades and scurrying squads of officers determined to shoot on sight failed to catch him.

While fortune smiled on Dillinger one of his girl friends, Miss Evelyn Frechette—like some of the other acquaintances of the notorious public enemy—was not so fortunate. She was held in $60,000 bond for a hearing April 21 on the question whether she shall be extradited to St. Paul on a charge of helping Dillinger escape a machine gun trap in a St. Paul apartment house.

Seek Stolen Bonds
Shortly afterward Deputy Martin raided a safety deposit box in the Lincoln Safe Deposit Company on the north side, presumably to recover bonds and cash stolen by the Dillinger mob from banks in Mason City, Ia., and Sioux Falls, S. D.

Only a small amount of cash and some jewelry were found, but the raid gave rise to a report, which was denied by the authorities, that the Frechette girl had, in the language of the underworld, "squealed."

Heavily Guarded

Despite the denial extraordinary precautions were taken to cope with a possible attempt by Dillinger to take her from federal officers who had held her incommunicado since last Monday.

Sinners armed with machine guns surrounded her at every turn and at strategic spots yesterday when she was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a removal warrant to Minnesota.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD GIRL LOSES IN VALIANT FIGHT

Leukemia is Fatal to Memphis Child After Long Battle

Memphis, Tenn., April 14.—(AP)—Willie Mae Miller, 4-year-old victim of leukemia, died at a hospital here today after a valiant but hopeless fight for life.

Her illness had attracted the sympathy of thousands, and she received many letters from all parts of the country.

Physicians said from the first that there was no hope of cure for the disease in which the red corpuscles are routed from the bloodstream by an ever-increasing excess of white corpuscles. Too young to understand the seriousness of her predicament, she had laughed and played with her toys almost to the time of her death.

She sang little songs that she made up as she went along.

Unable to be on her feet several hours a day, she would be forced to go to bed when drowsiness overtook her.

New Evidence in Cannon Case Now Sought in South

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—Prosecutors sought new evidence in the south today in their efforts to convict Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of violating the Corrupt Practices Act.

Taking advantage of a week-end recess a member of the prosecuting staff hurried to Florida by airplane to gather new data.

Cannon and his secretary, Miss Ada L. Burroughs, are charged with failing to report all contributions to the 1923 anti-Smith campaign they directed in the south.

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the resolution directing a Federal Power Commission investigation of electric rates. The order provides for an investigation of electric rates charged to residential, rural, commercial and industrial consumers.

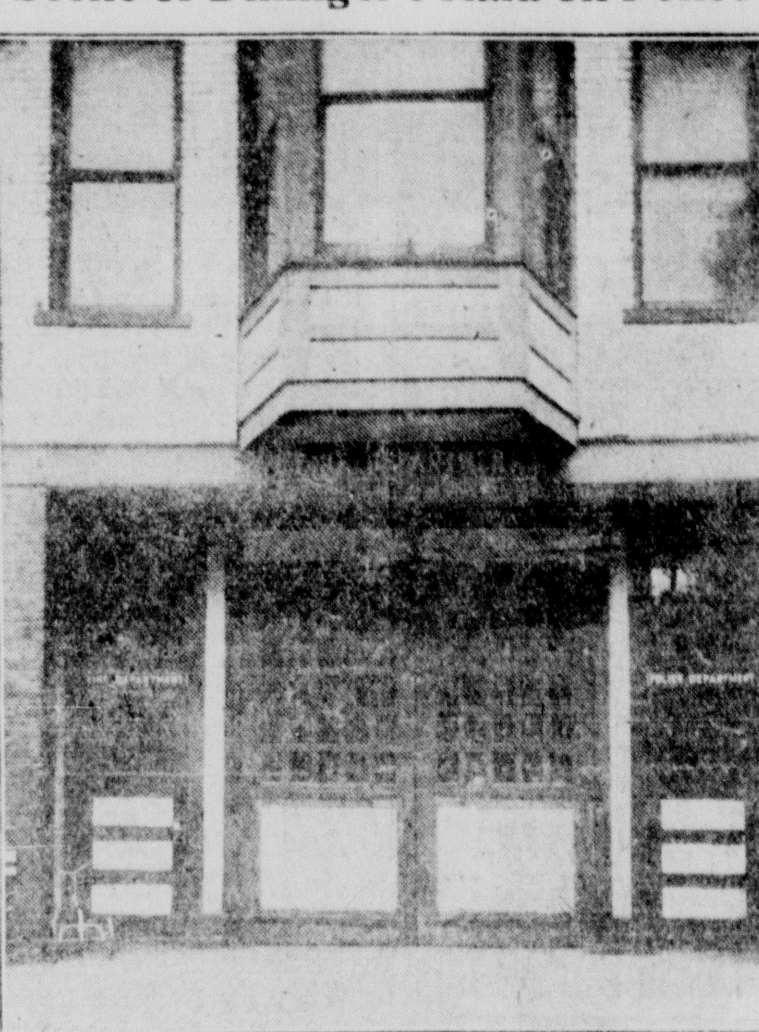

Four Killed in Ry. Crossing at Knox, Ind. this Morning

Knox, Ind., Apr. 14.—(AP)—Three adults and a child were killed today when a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train struck an automobile at a crossing four miles north of here. Immediate identification was impossible.

Papers in the automobile indicated the victims were from Westmont, Ill.

The bodies were taken to an undertaking establishment at Hamlet pending further efforts at identification.

BACKUS FAMILY ARE ORDERED TO STATE HOSPITAL

Committed to Institution Here by Rockford Court

Five members of the family of Charles Backus, Rockford, confessed slayer of his 8-year-old son, Charles, were ordered committed to the state colony hospital here yesterday by County Judge George T. Liddell of Rockford. Basing his action on the report of two alienists, Judge Liddell entered orders adjudging the wife, two stepdaughters and two younger children feeble-minded.

Three of the five, Mrs. Emma Backus, 36, wife of the slayer, and Dorothy Darling, 16, and Pauline Darling, 14 step-daughters of Backus, were ordered to Dixon immediately while the two younger children were placed on the waiting list at the hospital.

They will be cared for at the children's home until room is made for them. The two youngest Backus children also will be cared for at the children's home. They are too young for mental tests.

Backus was removed last Wednesday to Joliet penitentiary to serve two terms of twenty years each for statutory rape of his stepdaughters and from 1 to 14 years on a manslaughter charge growing out of the slaying of his son. The sentences are to run concurrently.

ELECTION CLERK IN STERLING IS CAUSE OF SCARE

Canvassing Board Discovered Unusual Situation

The canvassing board of Whiteside county while counting the votes cast in Tuesday's primary election yesterday came across an irregularity in the tally in the eighth precinct in Sterling, which it was thought for a time threatened the victory of Henry C. Allen of Lyndon over H. M. Stewart of DeKalb for Representative in the General Assembly, but when the check had been completed and verified it was determined that Allen is winner by a majority of 99 vote in the entire district.

The discrepancy was in the recording of the vote by one clerk which gave Allen but 148 votes in the Sterling precinct, while the unofficial count had given him 448. However, it was later seen that this clerk had skipped two sheets in his tally book while extending the Allen vote, and reference to the books of the other two clerks showed Allen's vote to have been 448.

Full Pardon Denied Kid McCoy in Calif.

Sacramento, Calif., April 14.—(AP)—Norman Selby, known to fistie fans as "Kid McCoy," must remain on parole from San Quentin prison.

The State Advisory Pardon Board notified the Governor's office it had declined to recommend a pardon for McCoy, which would have returned him full citizenship. It gave no reason.

Convicted in March 1925 of manslaughter, assault with a deadly weapon and attempted murder for the death of Mrs. Theresa Mors, with whom he lived, McCoy was paroled from San Quentin July 21, 1932.

ONE OF THREE ROAD STATION BANDITS KILLED

Body Dumped Out of Fleeing Holdups' Car this Morn

Williamsport, Ind., April 14.—(AP)—A bullet-riddled body, found on the highway by officers today where it had apparently been dumped from a passing auto, was believed to be that of one of three bandits who held up a filling station near Hopeston, Ill., last night and wounded four persons.

The dead man, tentatively identified by papers on the body as Clifford Holycross, Bismarck, Ill., had been shot three times. The body was lying beside a road near the Elwood Carlson farm.

William Heist, filling station proprietor, in a Danville hospital recovering from bullet wounds, said he felt one of the bandits with a shot and fired at him two or three times as he lay wounded on the floor.

The bandit was dragged out by his confederates to an auto in which the trio made the escape. Heist and three companions were wounded in a hall of bullets that followed the attempted hold-up.

Rush Plans to Test Mentality of Young in Chicago Schools

Chicago, April 14.—(AP)—Plans were being pushed today for the examination of Chicago's school pupils whose mental ratings are on the "border line."

Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan announced that nine psychiatrists would commence a survey soon of these select cases.

The program, which is an enlargement of similar work being conducted regularly, was crystallized with the death of 2-year-old Dorette Zietlow, the victim of a 13-year-old pupil with abnormal sex impulses.

Dead Man May Have Been in Cab of Speeding Passenger Train as it Was Wrecked in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—Possibility that a dead man was at the throttle of the engine of the Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train which plumed off a viaduct in Pittsburgh, Feb. 26, carrying 11 persons to their deaths, was suggested today by the Interstate Commerce Commission's Safety Bureau.

Excessive speed on a curve was blamed by the Bureau for the wreck, in which 46 persons were injured.

CONVICT MAKES ESCAPE FROM U. S. ISLAND JAIL

Is Thought to be Hiding in Timberland On McNeil Island

McNeil Island Federal Prison, Wash., April 14.—(AP)—One convict was in the prison hospital today, while guards beat through the timbered section of McNeil island for another, still at large after a daring prison break.

The raging waters around the island were believed to have prevented any successful attempt to swim to the mainland, Warden Finch Archer said.

The two, Mack Smith, serving a three-year sentence from Cheyenne, Wyo., for robbing a postoffice, and John M. Stadig, 26, San Francisco, here for six years on a counterfeiting charge, made a sensational break for freedom yesterday afternoon.

Seized Truck
Working in the prison yard, they suddenly seized a prison truck and raced toward the gates. They shattered one locked and steel-barred gate and then ploughed through a locked wooden gate, but their machine then stalled.

Guards on the walls opened fire. Smith was shot through the leg despite the protective cab of the truck over his head, and fell from the cab onto the ground and lay still.

Stadig, however, with bullets kicking up the earth around him, raced and zig-zagged to the nearby timber.

As customary during such prison breaks, all other prisoners remained locked in their cells today during the search.

Successful escapes from the institution have been infrequent.

SENATORS SEEK TO LEARN WHAT LINDBERGH SAID

Hear Lone Eagle Talked With Justice Department Attorney

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—Senator Austin (R. Vt.), a member of the Senate air mail investigating committee, told reporters today he would request Chairman Black to subpoena George A. Glendon, stenographer in the Department of Justice, to testify concerning a conference with Charles A. Lindbergh while the noted flier was in Washington recently to testify on air mail legislation.

The conference was between Carl Ristine, Special Assistant Attorney General employed to handle legal prosecution arising from the committee's investigation, and Lindbergh.

Glendon acted as stenographer. Officials explained the conference was to determine Lindbergh's knowledge of the air mail and to get the benefit of his views. It was emphasized there was no attempt to cross-examine the flier.

To Have Support
Austin said Senator White (R. Maine) would join him in the request that Black summon Glendon for appearance when the committee meets again Tuesday.

Glendon will be asked to bring a transcript of the conversation before the committee, or, if that is not available, his stenographic notes.

Meanwhile, A. G. Patterson, chief investigator of the Senate air mail committee, said today he called on Ristine to deliver some records of the investigating committee which the latter had requested and found Lindbergh there.

He added that he stayed only a few minutes and had no previous knowledge that Lindbergh would be present. He explained he knew nothing of any examination to which Lindbergh might have been subjected by Ristine.

Ristine was appointed to his post in January for the expressed purpose of handling any legal prosecution that might arise from the committee's inquiry.

SINGLE BRIGHT SPOT IN LABOR NEWS OF TODAY

100,000 Oil Workers to Walk Out Monday if Code's Adopted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Strikes and threats of strikes continued to dot the industrial map today.

A bright spot was an announcement that a $300,000 expansion program of the Homer Laughlin China Company at Newell, W. Va., will result in employment for 350 men.

The most serious threat was in the oil industry. The head of the Oil Workers Union announced in Washington that 100,000 men would be called out within 48 hours if wage differentials planned for the oil code were adopted.

Soda Workers Out
A strike of soda workers at the Viscose Company factory at Lewis-ton, Pa., against extension of a relay system of lunch periods spread throughout the plant. Union leaders estimated 3,000 are out. The soda workers were given lunch periods of 30 minutes each, taken in relays with other workers sharing the duties of absentees. They objected to extension of the total period from 3 to 5 1/2 hours.

From Pottsville, Pa., a call to strike Monday went out to miners in four colonies of the Philadelphia Coal & Iron Company. A union spokesman said the company had failed to keep a wage agreement. He estimated 2,700 miners would be affected.

Shipyard Closed
All fires at a shipyard in Camden were ordered extinguished when settlement of differences between 3,000 striking workers and their employers became remote.

Miners at the Coal Valley mine at Jasper, Ala., worked under the protection of machine guns manned by company - employed guards. Workers returning to the mine Wednesday were fired on from ambush.

From Washington came word that an important declaration of administrative attitude toward monopolies and labor in connection with the National Recovery Act had been drawn by President Roosevelt, General Counsel of NRA, when or whether it will be made public was undetermined.

STRIKE IN BELLEVILLE
Belleville, Ill., April 14.—(AP)—A dispute over the refusal of company officials to re-employ two workmen today resulted in a strike of 500 employees of the Knapp-Monarch Company, electrical supplies manufacturer.

Today's walkout was the latest development in labor troubles which have flared intermittently at the plant for two years. Last month, Theodore Herkert, secretary, announced the company was planning to move from Belleville because of the difficulties which, he said, have seriously retarded production.

Company Upheld
During February the employees' union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, went on strike for a week. At that time the union charged the company had interfered with the free choice of workers in deciding which of two unions would represent them in collective bargaining.

Subsequently the St. Louis regional labor board held that the company had not violated NRA provisions. Last night the board ruled that the company was within its rights in refusing to reinstate two employees, who according to the board's statement, had been discharged several times in the past.

Following the board's ruling Joseph Stockman, president of the union, announced the strike. Today the entire plant was shut down and workmen were picketing its entrances.

Canada's First Farmers Used Ontario's Lowlands

Long before the coming of the white man, agricultural peoples, organized into more or less settled communities occupied the fertile lowlands of Ontario between the Great Lakes and its continuation along the St. Lawrence valley, south of the Laurentian shield. The Iroquoian tribes, who had learned in the south how to grow maize, beans, squashes and sunflowers, introduced their cultivation into southeastern Ontario and the St. Lawrence valley, whence they spread into New Brunswick.

But the Indian methods of cultivation, says Diamond Jenness, in "Indians in Canada," were exceedingly primitive. Their stone axes barely bit into hard maple or birch trees that were not first charred with fire, so that they depended mainly on burning for the clearing of their lands. Long digging sticks or hoes fitted with blades of shell supplied the place of plows; the ripened ears of corn were gathered by hand and transported in baskets by the women to the husking shed. No tribe understood the rotation of crops, or indeed possessed the means to rotate them, and but few made any attempt to fertilize the soil. Consequently, when their plots became exhausted within ten or twelve years, the community moved away to new but unbroken ground.—Montreal Herald.

VAN SWERINGEN AND TWO BANKER FRIENDS NAMED

Are Indicted for Alleged Fraud in Cleveland Bank Failure

Cleveland, O., April 14—(AP)—O. P. Van Sweringen, railroad king, and two banker friends indicted with him, denied today that they engineered a $10,000,000 "paper" transaction to dress the front window of the Union Trust Co., now defunct.

"Perhaps I am a little bit old-fashioned," Van Sweringen said in answer to a county grand jury accusation, "but I still believe we are living in a government of law and I feel no concern over an income which is going to be determined in the unbiased, considered judgment of the court, where all motives, save those in pursuit of justice, are excluded."

The jury returned indictments yesterday against Van Sweringen, Joseph R. Nutt, former chairman of the bank's board and former Treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and W. M. Baldwin, former president of the institution.

The charge is that the bankers made a false entry in the books and gave a false report to the State Banking Superintendent. Van Sweringen is accused of abetting them. They faced arraignment in Common Pleas Court today.

Alleged Transaction
Prosecutor Frank Cullinan outlined the alleged transaction as follows:

Van Sweringen visited the J. P. Morgan offices in New York on Sept. 29, 1931 "on another matter." Unheralded into another room, he found Nutt, who previously had asked if Van Sweringen could sell the Cleveland bank some bonds.

Papers were signed whereby the railroad man sold the bank $10,000,000 in government bonds, which he had left with the Morgan Company for safekeeping. The Van Sweringen deposit account in the Cleveland bank was credited with $10,112,540, representing the market value, plus accrued interest.

On the same date, the Union Trust Company statement showed the bank held $10,112,540 in bonds and interest. Nine days later the transaction was reversed, and Van Sweringen bought the bonds back. The securities themselves remained in the Morgan vaults throughout.

Prosecutor Cullinan throughout, Van Sweringen as acknowledging that no money had changed hands.

"I did it merely to accommodate Joe Nutt and others of the Union Trust staff," he was quoted as saying.

SPECIALIST IN HEALTH SPEAKS TO WOMEN HERE

About 400 Heard Miss Fannie Brooks at Dixon Elks

A gathering of about 400 women from Lee and adjoining counties assembled in the dining hall at the Elks club house yesterday afternoon to listen to the address given by Miss Fannie Brooks, health specialist of the University of Illinois, whose subject was "Health After Forty." The famous war nurse was brought to Dixon by the Lee County Home Bureau women who have been busy for several months in an effort to secure a date for her presence in Lee county to give this talk.

Mrs. Beulah Welch of Harmon township, president of the county organization, presided. Attorney Robert L. Warner spoke briefly on the crippled children's program sponsored by the Illinois Elks Association and cited some cases from Lee county which have been either benefited or completely cured through these clinics and special hospital attention. Mrs. J. C. Wadsworth and daughter of the Harmon unit favored with a duet and responded to an encore.

Mrs. Florence Syverud, County Advisor, presented the guest speaker.

Examinations Stopped
To enjoy good health after attaining the age of 40, it is highly important that some attention be given to the health before 40, Miss Brooks stated in opening her talk. The periodical health examinations to which some American citizens subjected themselves at one time, stopped in 1929 when Wall Street fell, she continued.

With the aid of charts, she sketched a chalk talk, which held the attention of each of her interested listeners, dealing with the shortcomings which occur in early life and which become pronounced causes of trouble and ill health after 40.

Referring to the children of Illinois, Miss Brooks stated that the average family of children in this state did not exceed three and one-half. She urged the parents of the boys and girls of today to encourage and teach the children that they may think in terms of health.

To the average woman, who after attaining the age of 40, begins to worry about her health, Miss Brooks gave encouragement by outlining simple and inexpensive practices. More attention to personal appearance which may have been allowed to become lax in caring for the family; the use of plenty.

ty of hot soapsuds and water, followed by a cold rinse, instead of astringent solutions to prevent the appearance of lines in the face; an active daily life instead of completely slowing down; the necessity of ample quantities of fresh air each day with a maximum of out of door activity, were urged as preventives of age. The speaker urged women to interest themselves in small gardens or any other activity that met their liking as a means of disposing of spare time.

Community Interest
Interest in community affairs and conditions was strongly urged by the speaker to women who have attained the age of 40.
"There are some women who are constantly complaining of the things that we have and that we fail to take advantage of. You wanted the right to vote, you fought for that right and attained it, and now you fail to make use of it, but complain of the caliber of our office holders. Make the most of your right to vote, take an interest in your community and the youth of your neighborhood, for in this field there are great things to be guarded against and accomplished."

"Do not lose sight of the fact that the pool room door is open at all times to lure the youth of today and the green cloth inside that door has call to our youth. Then consider those places which are now called taverns in your communities, which are just the old time saloon with the old time environment. A saloon is a saloon no matter by what name you may call it. You women who have passed the age of 40, your community and neighborhood needs and requires your watchfulness and application of conditions of betterment for the youth of your day."

Miss Brooks, whose experience in specializing in health advice extends over a long period, is a most delightful and entertaining speaker. Many times during her talk, she caused her listeners to laugh heartily by her comparisons of modern health ideas with those of the mothers and grandmothers of the attentive gathering. A brief reception was conducted at the close of the interesting talk, the ladies of the Home Bureau units remaining to meet the distinguished speaker.

Literary Atmosphere at Banquet Dixon High School

The staffs of the year book and the Dixini met last night in the high school cafeteria to celebrate their first annual run with a banquet. In keeping with the literary idea of the occasion the program was arranged so as to reflect the newspaper work as much as possible.

After a delightful meal which was tasty as well as plentiful, the official program started with Ben T. Shaw of The Telegraph office giving an excellent talk on some insights on the newspaper game. Citing the beginning of the newspaper and the history behind advertising Mr. Shaw swung into the main part of his talk which was in regard to some of the associations a newspaper can and does belong to. Some of those he told about were The Associated Press, Inland Daily Press Association, National Advertising Ass'n., The Newsboys of America and the National Editorial Ass'n. Coupling his style with some excellent logic on education, Mr. Shaw concluded his talk with a word of thanks for having been asked to the first Dixini banquet.

The second speaker of the evening was introduced by the toastmaster, Harold Goeke, and it turned out to be Herbert Bain of the Rockford newspapers, who talked on some experiences as a reporter. In a very interesting style which held the attention of everyone Mr. Bain told some things which proved very interesting and which at many times brought roars of laughter. The logic and the manner of his talk were appreciated by the entire group.

The next speaker of the evening was Harry Lazier, editor of the first semester Dixini, the major part of his talk was made up of comparisons of this year's paper with the one of last year, he compared the two from every angle with the result that everyone was convinced that progress had been made in the Dixini field.

Francis Henry next told about the self-supporting Dixini, giving statistics showing how much of the actual expense of the paper had to be met by advertising, and how that part of the paper made for the success of the rest. Stressing this department in having an improved paper, "Hank" gave over the floor to the Toastmaster.

The next number was a group of selections played on the piano by Betty Nichols, which seemed to put everyone in a dancing mood which was soon in order. Before concluding the program a little skit of a staff meeting, written by the assistant editor of the paper, Miss Catherine Buchner, was presented. The mock meeting was very typical of the usual staff meeting with the following staff members taking part:

Catherine Buchner, Glendene Howe, Vivian Coakley, Betty Nichols, Mary Hoffman, Gilbert Stansell and the care-worn editor, Harold Goeke.

Before the dancing began Mr. Frazier was called upon and he gave a few off-hand points on why the Dixini was an educational project, and why it had its advantages.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, or in having a general good time under the direction of Mr. Bowers.

Meeting of W. M. S. at Christian Church

The W. M. S. of the Christian church met at the church Tuesday afternoon. As the members assembled Mrs. Derr softly played a piano selection, followed by all singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" with prayer by Mrs. Barnett. The minutes were read and approved. The offering was taken and an offertory prayer given by Mrs. Seyster, followed by the secretary's report.

Rev. Barnett had charge of the devotions which included the song

"More Love to Thee." He gave an interesting talk on missionary work being done in Mexico. A circle of prayers were offered for the Missionary Society which was organized sixty years ago and for the wonderful work that women have done since then.

Solo—Evelyn Seyster.
Mrs. Frank Sproul presented the Presentation Period as follows:

A new feature was then introduced by the broadcasting of missionary news items, which is to encourage reading of these articles in the World Call.

Mrs. A. S. Derr in her efficient manner broadcasted these snappy news items over Station LAD.

The meeting closed by all repeating the benediction.

The hostesses then served tempting refreshments.

WE MUST HAVE A NEW DECLARATION OF AIMS.

The recovery program at Washington has passed through so many crises that it hardly seems worth while to call attention to the existence of a new one.

Nevertheless it is growing plainer each day that the whole administration scheme of things has reached its most crucial phase to date.

The fact that Mr. Roosevelt's program has been having tough sledding on Capitol Hill recently would not mean much except for the fact that this opposition reflects a rising opposition among the congressmen's constituents. Among the snags it has hit may be listed the following:

Modification of the stock exchange control bill in the direction sought by Wall Street.

The announced decision of legislative leaders to liberalize the securities bill in the same direction.

Modification of the Wagner bill to meet the objections of large employers of labor.

Drastic changing of the airmail policy in response to widespread objections from the business community.

Defeat of the St. Lawrence waterway bill and over-riding of the veto on the economy bill.

Abandonment by the NRA of its plan for a blanket order to cut hours and raise wages in industry.

Other things could be cited but these are the major points. And a review of them leaves one with the feeling that there has been a slowing up of the machinery which functioned so smoothly a few months ago.

All this being the case what happens next?

It is customary to say that Mr. Roosevelt will presently pull a new rabbit out of the hat. Yet no magician's hat is bottomless and no supply of rabbits is inexhaustible.

In this case what we have to expect is not so much a new rabbit as a redefining of the whole program and a reiteration of fundamental policies.

The first phase of the recovery program is over. A substantial amount of recovery has actually been made and more is in prospect.

The task of maintaining the balance between recovery and reform becomes more difficult than ever. If our present confusion is to be ended it can be through only a new declaration of aims and principles from the White House.

WHEN A JOB IS FOR SALE.

Testimony of former Judge William B. Harley of New Jersey before a legislative committee at Trenton contains about as striking a sidelight on politics as one ever gets.

The judge declared that he paid $25,000 to a political leader to get his appointment to the bench. Afterward, he said, the man to whom he paid the money made repeated efforts to influence his decisions in various court cases, and threatened him when he refused to obey orders.

Now this whole business leads one to wonder what on earth any man would expect to happen, when he paid $25,000 for his appointment to the bench. Would he expect that he would be permitted to go ahead and be an upright and unbiased jurist? The man who sells a job usually likes to keep a string on it; the man who buys one automatically surrenders his independence whether he realizes it or not.

REASSURING MANEUVER.

There is something exceedingly reassuring about the United States fleet's departure from the Pacific coast for Atlantic waters.

During the last year or so we have heard a great deal about the danger of war in the Far East. We have been asked to spend a huge sum in putting our navy in tiptop shape, the idea being that times are so unsettled that we can't tell just when we may have to use it.

But this movement of the fleet is a pretty good sign that the situation isn't as bad as it was painted.

The government would not pull the entire fleet around to the east coast if it had any reason to believe that it might at any moment be called on to fight in the Pacific. The movement ought to do a great deal to quiet our fears—and, incidentally, to help quiet the fears of other nations as well.

MAN OR ANIMAL?

A pet rabbit in Chicago fell into the hands of the police the other day because it bit three children. The coppers prepared to put it to death; but just in the nick of time they received an indignant telegram from some anti-cruelty society in Iowa, so the execution was deferred until the bunny could be tested for rabies.

A thoughtful man is apt to wonder slightly at the zeal which people can put into minor causes at a time when stupendous events are taking place. Cruelty to animals—provided that the killing of a rabbit comes under that heading—is a sad thing to contemplate, to be sure; but cruelty to human beings has not exactly disappeared from this weary and sin-stained earth, and one would suppose that might make a better goal for the efforts of the humanitarians.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The hen that chased poor Windy was quite furious, and all because the lad had tried to take eggs from a nest up in the hay.

"Somebody help me," Windy cried. "She'll peck big holes right in my side. Gee, I can't understand why she is acting up this way."

"Aw, I can," little Dotty said. "You simply didn't use your head when you were getting eggs. You should have left that nest alone."

"Without those eggs, you had a batch. You see, they are about to hatch. That's why the mother hen feels that they are her very own."

Just then the farmer cried, "Cluck, cluck!" To Windy this brought real good luck. The mad old hen stopped chasing him and went back to her nest.

The farmer then said, "She's trained well as you can very easily tell." "Oh, thank you," answered Windy. "Now I'll get a chance to rest."

He flopped down in a shady spot.

And Goldy said, "As like as not, you shortly will be snoring. Guess I'll ramble round some more."

"I'll be no fun, just standing here. You'll bother all of us, I fear. I really have to hold my ears, when I hear people snore."

And then she scampered out of sight. "I hope that she will be all right," said Goldy, as he watched her run. "I want no cause for fear."

"Don't worry," said the farmer. "She is just as safe as she can be. It won't be very long, I'm sure, until she'll come back here."

Into a large field Dotty went, and there a half an hour was spent, just playing 'round. Then, suddenly she heard a strange "Hello."

She looked around and then she saw a scarecrow, and was filled with awe, when it shook hands and said, "Please stay and play with me. Don't go."

(Scouty and Windy have a funny ride in the next story.)

PREVENTION OF RHEUMATISM: I

It might be asked: how can we prevent rheumatic fever when, as a matter of fact, we do not as yet have definite knowledge as to what causes it?

The answer must be found in experience, which has shown that in many instances long before the specific cause was known, effective remedies and preventives for diseases were found and applied.

Classical illustrations of this possibility of prevention where specific cause still remains unknown, are malaria, yellow fever and smallpox.

But this question deserves further consideration. In but very few diseases are we warranted in speaking of a single cause. The clinical pictures we see in the sick person represent the effects of many causes, among which the so-called specific cause is not even always the most important one.

In addition to the germ or virus, there operate the contributing causes, such as physical debility, constitutional and hereditary weakness, the fortuitous elements of accident, etc. And against all of these, operating and affecting the ultimate outcome, are the conserving forces inherent in all living things.

A disease therefore may be prevented by elimination of its specific causative agent, without which, no matter what other conditions exist, the given disease cannot develop.

Have Jealousy Cure

Medical science has until recently regarded jealousy as a defect of character that is incurable. Psychologists have come to the conclusion, however, that jealousy is a disease, with the same general characteristics as other diseases. Jealousy is a mixture of fear, envy and weakness. It is just as uncontrollable as love, which comes and goes without any conscious effort of will.

The only difference between love and jealousy is that whereas love is incurable, jealousy can be treated by means of psychotherapy. The basic cause of jealousy is discovered by means of exhaustive psychoanalysis and after this a complete cure can be effected in most cases.

The jealous person is given hormones and is otherwise treated in the same way as a chronic dipomanic.

NEW TALENT IN MAJOR LEAGUES VERY PLENTIFUL

Rookie Prospects Unusually Good as Season Nears

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, April 14—(AP)—The rookies that bloom in the spring often turn out to be the "bloomers" of mid-summer. Yet, if only a fair percentage of the youngsters who have been providing the training camp thrills turn out to be as good as their early performances indicate, 1934 should be a banner year for major league newcomers.

The approach of the opening games finds nearly every major league club carrying at least a few recruits who have survived the rigorous tests of the early workouts. The count of those who look good enough to last even after the clubs have to cut down their squads to conform to the player limit runs into the dozens.

Among the year's prize rookies are Don Heffner and Red Rolfe, the Yankees' new infield pair; Harry Lavagetto of the Pirates; Harland Clift and Alan Strange, Browns' infielders; Zeke Bonura of the White Sox and Hal Trosky of the Indians, all of whom have been picked to start the season as regulars. Others still are on trial but probably will make the major league grade either in regular positions or as substitutes.

Much New Talent
The lower ranking clubs of the two big leagues have collected plenty of new talent. The situation is unusual in that their efforts have met with more than ordinary success.

The Browns, in addition to Clift and Strange, have the young pitcher and George Pucelli, former toilers in the Cardinal chain, in the outfield. Al Belma, from San Antonio, who has been getting a lot of work at second, and the loquacious Buck Newsome and big Jim Weaver in the mound department.

Brooklyn's Dodgers have about the biggest collection of promising youngsters in the National League, including several who proved their worth in late tryouts last season. Manager Casey Stengel already has picked Emil Leonard, from York, Pa., and Charlie Perkins, the red-head from Buffalo, as starting pitchers and has decided that Johnny McCarthy, a first baseman fresh from the sand lots, is good enough to keep around all season. The Dodgers also have Les Munns, pitcher from St. Paul, Lew Koonce, the outfielder who cost the Giants $75,000 a few years ago and who came back via Buffalo, and catcher Ray Berres from Birmingham. All seem sure to remain.

Phillies' Prospects
Jimmy Wilson's Phillies boast such good pitching prospects as Curt Davis from San Francisco, George Darrow and Ted Kleinhaus; Lou Chiozza and Irvine Jeffries, promising infielders, and Henry Oana, the Hawaiian outfielder.

Besides Lavagetto, counted upon to replace Tony Piet, Pittsburgh has added Darrell "Cy" Blanton and Lloyd Johnson to its mound staff. The Reds and the Braves have been building on a basis of tested talent and fail to show much in the rookie line, but the world champion Giants expect to keep Joe Bowman, from Portland, as a relief flinger and Hank Lelber as a spare outfielder.

The Cubs, tired as stung pennant contenders, usually will keep Augie Galan, third baseman who has been giving Woody English an argument; Tut Stainback, outfielder, and Roy Joiner and Bill Lee, pitchers, on hand for further investigation. Colonel Buster Mills, who sometimes lives up to his middle name, seems to have a pretty good chance for a job in the Cardinals' outfield, while Paul Dean Dizzy's brother, and Jim Winford look like the best of their pitching prospects.

McCarthy's Worries
In addition to Rolfe and Heffner in the Yankees' infield, Jack Saltgaver has been making a very strong bid for the utility job. Manager Joe McCarthy also may get a few headaches from trying to whittle down the list of young pitchers, which includes Jimmy Deshong, Harry Smyth and John Murphy and possibly Johnny Broaca, after the Yale flinger winds up his studies.

Boston's Red Sox, who have spent plenty of money buying veteran players, have limited their ventures in the rookie field to Julius Selters, a slugging outfielder from Baltimore, and Fritz Ostermuller, portside pitcher from Rochester. Neither seems likely to return to the minors.

Connie Mack, working to rebuild the Athletics shattered mound staff, has been giving plenty of work to a pair of right-handers, Bill Dietrick from Montreal and Joe Casarella from Jersey City. He also has Tim McKeithan, tried last year and fanned to Montreal; Johnny Marcum, who made his brilliant 1933 debut late enough to retain his "rookie" rating, and Harry Matuzak from Oklahoma City.

The Washington Senators, American League champions, kept quiet about acquiring new talent until a few days ago when they tendered contracts to Gus Dugas, an outfielder, who has been in the majors before; Mark Filley, a good hurler from Albany, and catcher Elmer Klumpp from Chattanooga. The late decision seems to indicate that Manager Joe Cronin is well satisfied with their work in spring tryouts.

AT THIS STAGE OF THE BACK-SWING THE BODY HAS TURNED SUFFICIENTLY TO LIFT THE LEFT HEEL FROM THE GROUND.

The first motion of the backswing is accomplished by the body, especially the hips and knees. Their action should result in the arms moving straight across the front of the body. The wrists should be relaxed so that they follow rather than lead.

Do not lift the clubhead at the start of the backswing as a garden-er lifts a hoe. The idea is to bring the club almost straight back from the ball, using no impetus from the wrists at all, until the swing reaches a point where it is at the point of starting upward. The action will be an aid to keeping the left arm fairly straight.

NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL TRACK MEET DROPPED

Goes Way of Stag's Equally Famous Cage Tourney

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—The University of Chicago's famous national interscholastic track and field games, which brought into prominence Glenn Cunningham, Clarence (Bud) Hauser, F. Morgan Taylor, Eddie Tolan and a host of other stars, has gone the way of A. A. S. A's equally famous prep basketball classic—out of existence.

Opposition by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, which was responsible for the abolition of the basketball tournament several years ago, caused the event to be dropped after 29 years. Thomas N. Metcalf, successor to Stag as the University's Athletic Director, said last night.

Metcalf received a letter from C. W. Whitten, secretary of the National Federation, saying the organization had adopted a resolution instructing the executive council not to sanction national athletic meets for high school boys.

"It is my opinion," Whitten wrote, "that the National Federation will not desire to cooperate with the University of Chicago in continuing the interscholastic track and field meet."

The 30th running of the event had been tentatively scheduled for the early part of June.

Topping's Rally on Last Three Is Margin of Victory

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 14—(AP)—A rally on the last three holes has enabled Dan R. Topping of Greenwich, Conn., to win his first major golfing title.

Encountering Robert Lester of West Orange, N. J., in the final of the 14th annual Mason and Dixon amateur tournament yesterday, Topping was two down with only three holes to play but flashed a great rally to win the 34th and 35th to square the first extra hole.

It's Cherry Blossom Time Again in Nation's Capital

Washington again welcomes its rare spectacle of beauty, the blossoming of its famed Japanese cherry trees, which annually attracts thousands of visitors. This picture shows the capitol with a tree nearby laden with blooms. All the trees are expected to be in full bloom by the time of the yearly festival, April 19-21, at which Miss Eleanor Roosevelt, daughter of the assistant secretary of the navy, will be queen.

McGUGIN CALLS WIRT INQUIRERS BIASED, UNFIT

Speaker Rainey, Ickes, Scored by Republican Committee

Washington, April 14—(AP)—Representative McGugin (R-Kas) said in a statement Friday the people can "have no confidence" in the findings of the committee investigating Dr. William A. Wirt's "brain trust" revolution.

The statement, inserted in the Congressional Record by McGugin, also a committee member, said:

"No court of five judges would be permitted to pass judgment upon the statements of any witness, which court had so openly and flagrantly displayed its bias, prejudice and hatred for the poor victim before it, should one of the five judges publicly make the false statement that the witness had been in jail for disloyalty and should another of the judges refuse to be made public the irrefutable evidence that such defamatory statements against the witness were wholly false.

"Such conduct on the part of a court would not be unlike the treatment this committee has accorded to Dr. Wirt.

Without Confidence
"The people of the United States can have no confidence in the findings of this committee if those findings are to be made up by members who have displayed the bias and prejudice against Dr. Wirt which has been openly displayed by Mr. Bulwinkle and Mr. O'Connor.

"From the standpoint of the House, I realize that the great embarrassment is that if Mr. Bulwinkle and Mr. O'Connor do withdraw, they will have to be replaced by members appointed by the Speaker."

"The public cannot help but wonder about the Speaker's fairness and impartiality in making the new appointments."

McGugin explained that before Dr. Wirt testified earlier in the week, Rainey threatened that the Gary, Indiana, school superintendent would be "in jail if he did not testify."

Far Greater Issue
"The Speaker was undertaking to discredit Dr. Wirt before the people of the country," McGugin asserted.

"The conduct of the chairman of the committee," McGugin continued, "the ranking majority member of the committee, the Speaker, the Majority Floor leader and Mr. Ickes, a cabinet officer, showed Dr. Wirt presents an issue far greater than the issue presented in the original Wirt charge."

"That issue is, can an American citizen appear before a committee of Congress without being embarrassed by members of the committee, the Speaker, the Majority Floor leader and a cabinet officer?"

A statement that mimeographed form letters seeking to paint the administration as "red" were being showered on members of Congress was made today by Representative Foulkes (D-Mich.) in the Congressional Record.

Support Dr. Wirt
The letters, he said, coincided with statements of Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary, Indiana, schoolmaster, that "brain trusters" are plotting revolution.

"I want to call attention to the fact," Foulkes said, "that certain Congressmen are being flooded with letters—all of them mimeographed form letters or copies from such forms—that seem to smack of Nazi propaganda and that coincide with the charges of Dr. Wirt."

"They are plainly the work of some propaganda organization bent on painting the administration as 'red' and inflaming the passions and prejudices of people."

This is the form that is followed in letters coming to me and to one other Congressman.

STORY OF MOSES AND ELIJAH WAS LECTURE THEME

Halley Meetings at M. E. Church are Educational

In the union meetings last night at the First Methodist church the subject of Mr. Halley's recital was the stories of Moses and Elijah. In introducing the recital he stated that while God's ultimate object in founding the Hebrew nation was through the nation to bring Christ into the world, yet his immediate object was to establish in a world of idolatry the idea that there is in this universe one true living God, as a background to the coming of Christ. And God undertook to establish that idea by building a nation around the idea, a nation whose supreme national institution was Jehovah in a world of idolatry.

In reciting the story of Moses, Mr. Halley chose passages mostly from the book of Exodus, aiming to illustrate how the Hebrew nation was originally organized around Jehovah-worship, with the most solemn warnings that if they forsook Jehovah the consequences would be fearful.

In reciting the story of Elijah, who lived five hundred years after Moses, at a time when the nation was engaged in a life and death struggle with Baal-worship, Mr. Halley's object was to show that while God sometimes resorts to fire and sword methods, by reason of a crisis in His plans, yet God tried to teach Elijah that after all fire and sword methods are not God's real methods of doing his work; and after serving his own generation in doing the thing that God called him to do, Elijah, many centuries later again appears to mortal view, on the mount of transfiguration talking with Christ about the work that he and Moses had had a hand in paving the way for, and that was now at last being introduced into the world by the coming of Christ, God's real work, namely, that of transforming human lives into the image of God through the still small voice of Christ speaking in the hearts of men.

There will be a meeting this evening at 7:30. Mr. Halley's recital will be the book of Jeremiah, Sunday evening will be one of the most important of the recitals, some of the teachings of Jesus. The meetings will continue each evening throughout the coming week, and will be mostly in the New Testament.

Three years pass and Pablito and Beat are again. They meet secretly until her father takes her away on a yacht cruise. When away from the shore, Pablito reports that Estelle is engaged to ALEC DAVIDS, he leaves Havana. Months later, believing Pablito lost to her, Estelle does agree to marry David.

Then he folded the Paris Herald carefully and neatly and laid it beside him on the bench. A much rouged woman with heavily darkened brows and lashes passed by, sending him a glance of invitation. He looked through her, seeing her not at all, and she moved on with a hardening of an already hard face and little shrug of the shoulders.

The woman had seen the handsome young man with the blond hair and blue eyes before and had tried, in her usually successful way, to capture him. Always before he had looked away from her, embarrassed. Today he was hard. Well, the woman thought, fortunately the sea is full of fish. Nevertheless she remembered the young man's face, forgetting for a time to make her careful, skillful estimate of the male occupants of the benches.

PRESENTLY Pablito arose and walked toward the hotel at which he was stopping. He was weary of carefully planned flower beds made up of canna and low growing foliage of red and green striped leaves; weary of the endless fleur de lis made by gardeners who saw no beauty in the casual arrangement of flowers; weary, too, of the equally artificial men and women who came to this world, seeking that which they saw as "pleasure."

He would go back to Cuba, Pablito decided, to the bleak apartment over a grocery store. There at least the sounds and the smells would

OBITUARY
GRACE SPENCER
Grace Mae Johnson, daughter of Sumner and Hattie Johnson, was born at Independence, Iowa, Sept. 13, 1881, and passed away April 6, 1934 at her home in Eagle Point at the age of 52 years, six months and 23 days. She came to Illinois with her parents when a small child and had lived in this vicinity until her death, with the exception of one year in Iowa and Wisconsin.

On Oct. 27, 1897 she was united in marriage to Hal B. Spencer. To this union were born two daughters, Mrs. Alta Hacker and Mrs. Sam Ethridge, both residing at Eagle Point, who so tenderly cared for their mother during her many days of suffering. For several years her health has been poor, and for the past four months her sufferings were at times intense. On Thursday morning she grew worse, and passed away about three o'clock Friday morning. Her sufferings were borne patiently and uncomplainingly, and her ambition often kept her at her work when the body was weak. She was of a quiet unassuming nature, finding her greatest enjoyment in her home in the company of her loved ones. She had many friends and from one and all who associated with her most closely, the expression is heard, "She was a good woman." Her mother passed away in July, 1908.

She united with the Brethren church at Milledgeville about 1894 and later transferred her membership to the Elkhorn U. B. church. She has been a member of the Eagle Point Aid society for a number of years. Besides her husband and daughters she leaves to mourn her departure, her father and step-mother, one sister, Mrs. Bertha Spencer and one half sister, Mrs. Belva Johnson Anderson, all of Rock Falls; three grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

The funeral was held Sunday, April 8, with burial at the Union cemetery. The services were conducted by the Rev. Bell of Milledgeville assisted by Rev. Kok of the Elkhorn U. B. church. Mrs. Howard Webster and Mrs. Sanford sang two comforting hymns.

The floral offering were many and beautiful. Relatives and friends from Rock Falls, Sterling, Milledge, Lanark, Savanna, Thompson, Polo and Racine, Wis., attended the funeral.
